

City of Nashua Celebrates 6th Annual National Public Health Week

Don't panic. Disaster preparedness starts with community-wide commitment and action. We're here to help you weather the unexpected.

City of Nashua Office of Emergency Management and Division of Public Health and Community Services present:

“Conducting Health and Welfare Checks and Rapid Needs Assessments”

Tuesday, April 8th, 6-8pm

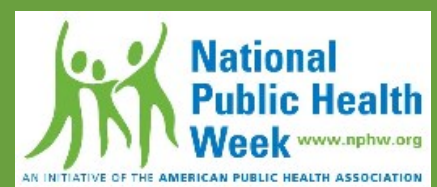

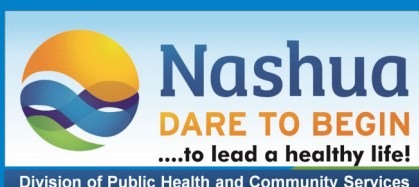

Dartmouth Hitchcock Nashua, Conference Rooms A-C

This training will provide guidance on how to conduct door-to-door health and welfare checks on selected neighborhoods and vulnerable areas to assist first responders and emergency management account for persons in disaster stricken areas. Special consideration will be made on identifying needs in the community which must be relayed back to the Emergency Operations Center.

A GREAT training for local emergency preparedness volunteers!
